

Divorce Document Checklist	Have	Don't Have	In the Other Party's Possession
Last two pay stubs
Last month's utility bills (phone, electric, gas, village, garbage, etc.)
Receipts — household repairs or replacements, if any (any anticipated or ongoing repairs?)
Last auto loan statement and Titles (if applicable)
Auto repairs and maintenance (any major work needed or immediate expense?)
Medical/Dental/Optical bills, quotes or statements for expected expenses (for ongoing medical treatment or medications)
Children's school fees: registration, PTO fees, books, etc.
Last statement of any credit card currently used
Copy of savings statement (most recent or copy of passbook)
Last month's checking statement (do not include actual canceled checks unless otherwise instructed)
Certificates of Deposit
Money Market Accounts (most current statement)
Stock, bonds and investment accounts (most current statements)
Real Estate documents (closing package from purchase/refis) and last month's mortgage statement (if un-encumbered, mortgage release)
Last month's home equity line or loan statement (if applicable)
Any and all documents relating to secondary, vacation residence or time-share
Any and all documents relating to vacant land
Any and all documentation relating to any business interests (tax returns, financial statements and the like)
Copy of life insurance policy statements (need death benefit values and any cash values)
Most current statement of any and all retirement accounts, pension plans, IRA's, 401(k) plans
Tax returns — State and Federal (last three years, unless otherwise instructed)
Any lawsuit claims against you or your spouse
Any and all appraisal for property: jewelry, collectibles, certificates of authenticity etc.			